New York Police Head Vows Vengeance on World Fair Bombers.

HARRISBURG, Pa.—(AP)—An attaché of Gov. Arthur H. James' office said today he had been informed that a bomb planted near the scene of the Republican national convention had been intended "for the governor."

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK—Two powerful dynamite bombs were found near the convention hall during the Republican national convention in Philadelphia two weeks ago, it was learned from a high police authority today after Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine disclosed a number of bombs were found during the meeting.

Valentine did not say how many bombs were found nor where they were discovered, but other sources said seven or eight were located, some of them in a hall frequently used for Communist meetings.

Valentine made the disclosure in a talk to his detective force in which he asserted that the bomb explosion at the World's fair July Fourth which killed two detectives "is just the beginning."

The voice of the veteran and hardened peace officer choked with emotion as he spoke of the two victims of the bomb and declared that the department was out to "get" the perpetrators of the plot, convict them and "have them sentenced to their proper punishment—execution."

Lieut. James Pyke (head of the bomb and forgery squad) went to Philadelphia while the Republican convention was in session. Valentine said, "Some bombs were found there, and he opened two of them."

$352 From Shelby Puts Richland Red Cross Drive Over

A check for $352 from the Shelby branch of the Richland County Red Cross sent the chapter bounding over the top of its goal today in the drive for war relief funds, bringing the total to $12,149.

Yesterday the drive seemed to have bogged down within reaching distance of the goal of $12,000 and an appeal for the last minute volunteer contributions was made.

The check this morning from the Shelby branch represented belated contributions from industrial plants and pledges from individuals. This brought total Shelby contributions to $2,962.

D. O. Meese, general chairman of the drive, said that although the first and second quotas for Richland county had been reached, that the books would remain open for other volunteer contributions.

The first telegraphed plea for Richland county to join the nation in raising funds for Red Cross relief work in the low countries came on May 11 and the quota was for $6,000.

On May 29 national headquarters asked the chapter to accept a second quota for the same amount, making a total of $12,000.

3 Women Hurt; 2 Face Police Quiz

Question Mansfielders In Hit-Skip Traffic Death In Columbus.

BULLETIN

COLUMBUS — (UP)—Doyle Minard, 34-year-old roofer from Mansfield, admitted to police today that he was the driver of the automobile which struck and killed Charles L. Matheny, 74, Nelsonville. Police said no charges will be filed against Minard pending further investigation of the accident. Jacob Bikar, 26, Mansfield, who was arrested in a hotel along with Minard, was not believed to have been in the car. He probably will be released.

Three women were injured in two traffic accidents in the Mansfield area last night, while two Mansfield men were held in Columbus for questioning in connection with a hit-skip accident there in which an aged man was fatally injured.

Struck by an automobile at Third and Main streets about 9 p. m., Miss Phoebe White, 21, of 45 Brinkman road, was taken to General Hospital for treatment for a possible concussion and lacerations, and abrasions on her arms, legs, and face.

She was struck by a car driven by Thurman F. Self, 89 West Second street, who told officers she stepped from behind another car into the path of his automobile. She was thrown 15 feet. Her condition was not believed serious.

Traced to a Columbus hotel through an automobile license number, Doyle Minard, 34, R. D. 5, and Jacob Bikar, 26, R. D. 1, Mansfield, were questioned by officers who sought the driver of a car that struck Charles L. Matheny, 74, of Nelsonville, and then failed to stop. Matheny died a short time later.

Police said there was a dent in the right front fender and door of the car driven by Minard who told authorities he and Bikar were working for a roofing firm in Columbus and staying at the hotel.

Two Ashland women were injured, neither seriously, about 6 p. m. Wednesday in an automobile-truck collision on route 250 near Ashland. Deputy Sheriff Earl Kaylor of Ashland county said.

They were Bessie Sutter, 43, who received head injuries, and Marian Sutter, 23, who suffered foot injuries.

Willkie Plans Active Drive for 'Solid' Vote.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie said today he would make an active campaign for votes in the "solid" democratic south.

Willkie told reporters that while his campaign plans were indefinite, he would "undoubtedly" make a number of talks in the south during the coming campaign.

The Republican nominee here for a vacation with Mrs. Willkie, said he would spend today "just reading and resting."

The nominee talked yesterday with Gov. Ralph L. Carr of Colorado who asserted that Willkie would sweep the west in the November election and added to reporters: "I'm not kidding you."

Sewing Machine Workers in Illinois Called Out.

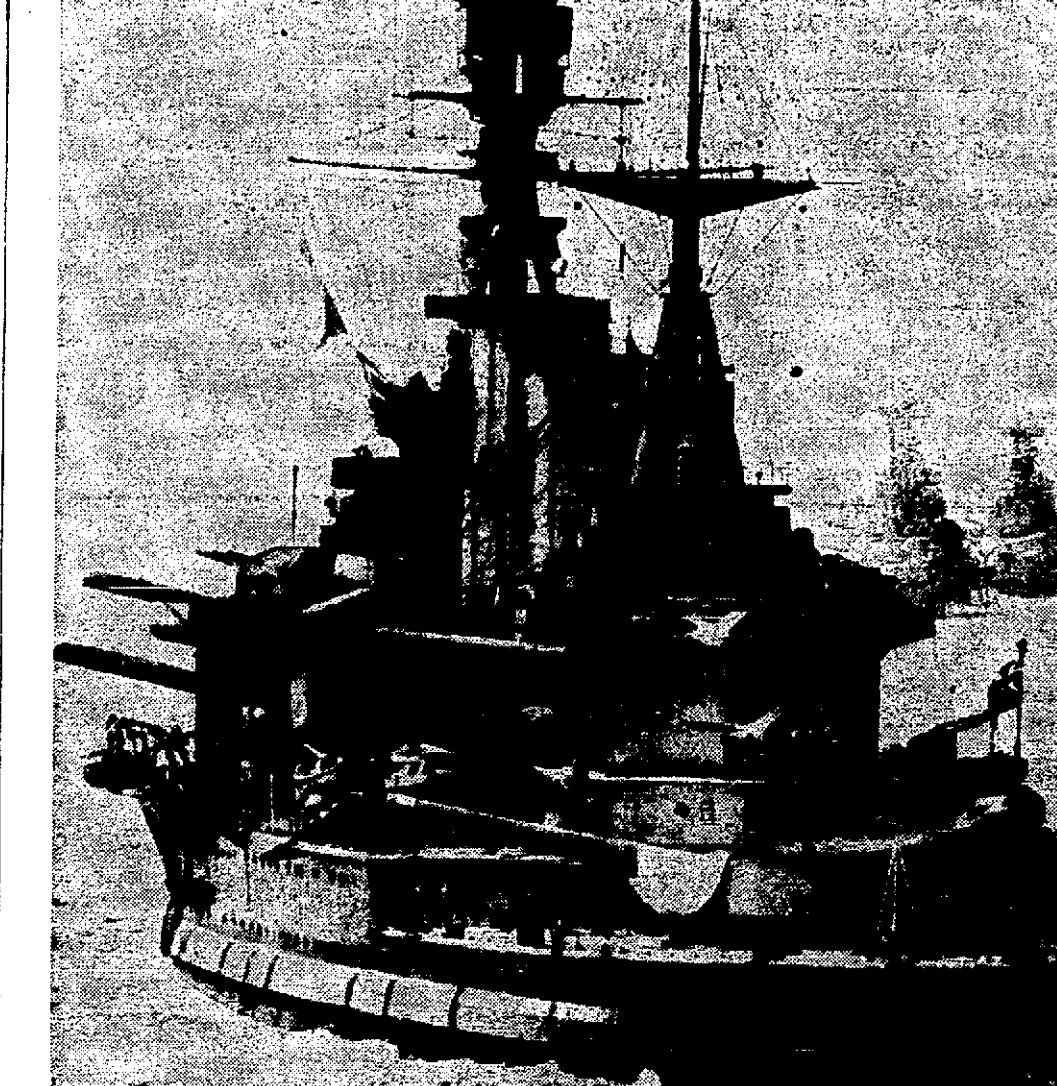

BELVIDERE, Ill.—(INS)—More than 800 employees of the National Sewing Machine company at Belvidere were on strike today in protest against the dismissal of a union employee. The union, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, called the strike yesterday, and shipment of parts of an order of 40,000 machine heads to South America was halted. There were no disorders.

Sea Giant Damaged By Italian Bombs?

Rome reports declared today that the British battle cruiser, Hood, largest battleship afloat, had been struck by bombs dropped by Italian planes and that a fire had been started aboard her. British admiralty quickly denied the report, saying that bombs had dropped near the Hood in a British-Italian naval clash, but that the ship had not been hit or damaged.

Residents Co-operate In 'Basement Flood' Problem

Phone Service Director Saying They're Ready To Divert Roof Waters From Sanitary Sewers.

More than a score of telephone calls to the office of Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton early today revealed the willingness of Mansfielders to co-operate with the city in eradicating the nuisance of roof water which pours into the sanitary sewer system flooding basements after every major rain.

"We are certainly gratified at this voluntary response," Crafton said. "People from all sections of the city have been calling in throughout the morning to say that they would be glad to correct conditions on their property."

The extent to which roof drainage water diverted to the sanitary sewer system was jamming up city sewers was pointedly revealed last week in a survey released by city engineer W. C. Statler.

The survey, made by WPA, indicated that 30 per cent of the property owners in the city were permitting roof water to drain into the sanitary sewers in direct violation of an ordinance passed by council in April, 1916.

At a special caucus Tuesday night council determined to enforce the ordinance which provides a $50 penalty for violations.

Contained in the survey is a detailed list of the names of property owners and the exact nature of the violation on their premises.

"Early next week," Crafton said, "letters will be sent to all these property owners explaining the error in their drainage systems and urging their co-operation in solving this problem."

"We have no intention of using force where people are willing to work with the city in this matter," Crafton concluded.

OK'S RICHLAND ROAD PROJECT

State Decides To Improve Route 13; Cost Estimated at $72,000.

The state highway department today had approved a proposal for improvement of two stretches of State Route 13 north of Mansfield, the major portion in Richland county.

Starting at the intersection of Route 13 with Route 96, the highway will be widened and resurfaced for a distance of three miles northward, according to Murray D. Shaffer, Ashland division engineer of the state highway department. In Huron county, the road will be widened and resurfaced for a distance of 1½ miles south.

Cost of the entire project, Shaffer said, has been estimated at about $72,000 including grading and ditch work.

One contract will be let to cover both jobs, he said. Bids will be received July 26 and it is expected that the contracts will be awarded so that work can start between Aug. 1 and Aug. 15.

Both stretches of the road will be widened from their present 16- and 18-foot widths to 22 feet. The new surface will be bituminous asphalt.

Of the $72,000 estimate, Shaffer said, the Richland county portion of the work will cost from $35,000 to $60,000.

Cincy Killer Proves Lived Victim In 13 Years.

COLUMBUS—(UP)—For the first time in 13 years, it required two applications of current to execute a man in Ohio penitentiary last night.

The switch was turned on twice for Monroe Bohannon, 34, Cincinnati colored man, who was convicted of first degree murder of Joseph Peters, Cincinnati shopkeeper.

Bohannon went to the chair without emotion. He was declared dead at 9:08.5 p. m. after the second application of current.

KNOX CONFIRMED

Two-Ocean Fleet Measure Adopted by Senate; Recess Starts.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The national advisory defense commission announced today that it had placed orders totaling $100,000,000 with airplane manufacturing companies for 25,000 airplanes for the army and navy.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Congress, rallying to a call for "total defense," manifested a general readiness today to approve President Roosevelt's request for another $4,848,171,957 to advance the preparedness program.

Promises of support for the huge recommendation were coupled with widespread applause for the chief executive's pledge that no American troops would be sent to fight in old world wars.

His latest extraordinary defense message—the third in less than two months—went to Capitol Hill yesterday afternoon within a few hours of two other major developments.

The senate first voted 66 to 16 to confirm Col. Frank Knox as secretary of the navy and then with dispatch rushed through the $4,848,000,000 expansion of the fleet to "two-ocean" proportions.

Knox's confirmation followed by 24 hours the approval of a fellow Republican, Henry L. Stimson, as secretary of war. Stimson was sworn in yesterday.

Knox received the support of Sen. Robert A. Taft (R., Ohio) although Taft previously voted against the confirmation of Stimson. Sen. Vic. Donahey (D., Ohio), was not listed as voting.

Although President Roosevelt's new preparedness request would boost the present program above the $10,000,000,000 level, only scattered criticism appeared in congressional comment.

A few legislators expressed doubt that the additional money and authorizations could be utilized immediately in view of the (Continued on Page 10, Col. 6)

Offer Rejected for Joint Defense of Ireland.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland—(UP)—Viscount Craigavon, prime minister of Northern Ireland, told the Ulster house of commons today that Premier Eamon DeValera of Eire had rejected his offer for a joint defense of Eire and Northern Ireland.

So far as he was concerned, Craigavon said, DeValera's rejection ended the matter.

Proposals for a joint defense were made in view of fears of possible German invasion of Ireland to facilitate the expected German campaign against the British Isles.

Claim Sub War Cuts Off Life Lines of Empire

Berlin Lists Shipping Losses of Enemy At 100,000 Tons a Week, Greater Than In World War; Italians Admit Loss of 220 on Ship.

BULLETIN

LONDON—(AP)—R. S. Hudson, minister of agriculture, told commons today that Britain was facing a crisis immeasurably more serious than in 1914, and said food production must be increased in the next year lest millions go hungry.

(By Associated Press)

GERMANY'S assault on British sea lanes, life lines of the United Kingdom, has wrought great destruction on shipping, costing Britain 609,000 tons by submarine attack alone in the last six weeks, the Nazi high command proclaimed today.

This rate of sinking exceeds that of the World war period of unrestricted submarine warfare, when U-boats of the imperial navy and other action sent down an average of 250,000 tons monthly.

The Nazis declared their sea campaign rapidly was becoming a starvation-blockade of the British Isles. Nazi claims were a reminder of the early months of 1917 when the United Kingdom had a food supply sufficient for only three weeks.

Defiantly, Minister of Agriculture R. S. Hudson told the house of commons that Britain would eat—regardless of German submarines and bombers.

Nazi bombers ranged England again. The government reported a "few" deaths and claimed eight raiders had been brought down.

Italy reported the loss of 220 Italian and Albanian officers and soldiers in the sinking, after an unexplained fire, of the Italian motorship Paganini June 28 off Durazzo, Albania.

Britain is making progress in her effort to make friends with Soviet Russia, Germany's economic partner, the house of commons was told by R. A. Butler, foreign affairs undersecretary.

New light on the controversial question of "battleship vs. plane" in actual combat was cast today by the disclosure by Gen. Francisco Pricolo, Italian air chief, that 300 Italian planes engaged in the battle of British and Italian war fleets in the Mediterranean.

Dispatches from Rome acknowledged that large part of the Italian aerial attack force returned with damage and with wounded crewmen—hit by terrific drum-fire from surface ships. Three Italian planes were lost.

By contrast, Sir Andrew Cunningham, commander-in-chief of the British Mediterranean fleet, reported that his ships suffered not a single casualty.

The Italian high command, in a belated communique, insisted however that Italian bombing planes set fire to the 42,000-ton British battle cruiser Hood, world's biggest warship, scored two bomb hits on the deck of the 22,000-ton aircraft carrier Ark Royal, and two on "another English battleship."

The British admiralty issued a formal denial.

"A report has been received from the flag officer commanding the British forces that, although several bombs fell close to his ships, no direct hits were secured and there was no damage."

Comparative quiet prevailed in western Europe, after yesterday's great aerial battle over Britain, though some German planes attacked various areas and the government reported "a few" deaths.

A lone Nazi raider was reported to have machine-gunned civilians and a fire engine crew in the streets of a southeast English town, killing two persons, and bombed and machine-gunned cattle in a marsh.

The plane was believed shot down in the sea later by British aircraft.

Warned that the zero hour for England may be near, British soldiers guarded their bristling coastal ramparts and fighter planes (Continued on Page 10, Col. 1)

PLAYMATES: Hungary Joins Axis Powers Against England

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN—(AP)—Hungary, as a friend of both Germany and Italy, definitely has joined the common front against England in southeastern Europe, authorized German sources declared today. And the three states will resist any attempts to carry the war to the Balkans, it was asserted.

The German sources said that the Hungarian leaders, Premier Count Pal Teleky and Foreign Minister Count Istvan Csaky, gave assurances in their Munich conference with the Germans and Italians that they would wait patiently for revision of Balkan territories until scores first had been settled with England.

The German reaction came as Teleky and Csaky returned to Budapest, where they faced the job of preparing the Hungarian public to renounce their hopes for immediate return of Transylvania, lost to Rumania through post-World war settlements.

MRS. MARTHA CRIM

GALION—Mrs. Martha R. Crim, Crawford county's oldest resident, who celebrated her 100th birthday last January 9, died early today at her home here, 422 Harding Way West, following an illness of three months.

Resides being Crawford county's oldest resident, Mrs. Crim was also Ohio's oldest business woman before her retirement as a director of the First National bank in 1936. Her husband, C. S. Crim, who died in 1895, was a founder and president of the bank.

Born Jan. 9, 1840 in Juniata county, Pa., Mrs. Crim came to Galion with her parents Jacob and Sarah Cossner, when six years old, and spent the rest of her life here. When she came here Galion was then only a cross road town.

Mrs. Crim's one ambition was to live to be 100 years old. Until her recent illness she listened to the radio daily. She recently said (Continued on Page 10, Col. 3)

3,772 RICHLAND COUNTIANS HAVE WORKED ON WPA

Report Covering Five Years Of Activities Shows That Many Were Employed.

Approximately 3,772 Richland countians have worked on WPA during the five years of the federal relief agency's existence, J. L. Kelly, manager of the Central Ohio WPA district, said today. Slightly over 500 persons are now employed on projects in Mansfield and the rest of the county.

On a family basis, this would mean that more than 12,000 persons have depended upon WPA for a livelihood for various periods of time. Preliminary figures for the 1940 census in Richland county place the population total at 73,862.

This month WPA passed its fifth legal birthday, marking the anniversary of the transfer of administrative officials to it from its predecessor, the FERA. In Richland and most other large Ohio counties, the start of WPA work projects was Aug. 12, 1935. Some were taken over from FERA, but many more were brand new projects for construction or improvement of public property, sponsored by local governmental units.

A survey of the district records showed that the first Richland county projects were greatly diversified, occupying the talents of scores of skilled men, as well as the sheer manpower of hundreds of laborers.

On that first August day, in Mansfield, workers began removing old floors in two schools, preparatory to reflooring, and started general improvements at Hedges street school. They began removing old asphalt block paving in Western, Stewart and Rowland avenues, before laying brick on those streets, and they began construction of 7,250 feet of concrete sidewalks.

It was not until three days later that they began building a stone bridge, a dam and a new lake wall in Liberty park, and start of work on the new pool there was not begun until three months later. Out in the county, on Aug. 12-13, other workers began painting five one-room schools in Madison township, installing guardrails on a number of roads, enlarging and installing a drainage system and painting the interior of Springfield township school, building the Belleville school athletic field, installing the West Park drive sewer and laying new curbs on Earl avenue in Shelby, and reconstructing a street in Lucas.

At that time, Kelly pointed out, every WPA job, however small, was a separate project, and the era of "blanket" projects, in which Ohio was a pioneer, was in the future.

A turtle weighing 1,100 pounds was lassoed and brought to shore in the Sabine channel of Texas recently.

NEW METHOD

Young Doctor Finds Way To Heal Blood Vessel.

CHICAGO—INS.—Young Sidney Smith, Jr., is being hailed by the medical profession for developing a simple method of healing ruptured blood vessels.

So simple is the new method that it can best be described by comparison with a common duty of every housewife—darning.

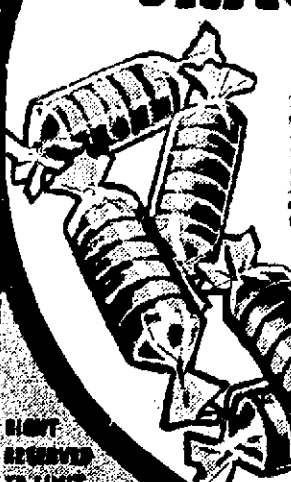

Smith developed the process of sewing up ruptured blood vessels on the darning principle, using sugar rods, covered with a film of oil, as the darning ball over which the blood vessel can be stitched together.

After the stitching is done, the sugar rod dissolves and disappears. Smith, 28, just received his M. D. degree from the University of Chicago was awarded the Harry Ginsburg Memorial Prize for his research work in developing the new process.

Low Jenkins' Pilot Predicts Easy Win

By JACK CUDDY
GROSSINGER LAKE, N. Y., July 10.—Howling Hymie Caplin, manager of Lightweight Champion Low Jenkins, declared today that Jenkins would knock out Henry Armstrong, welter king, within two rounds Wednesday night because Armstrong and Manager Eddie Mead were "tryin' to steal the lightweight title."

Caplin charged that Mead's announcements of money training weights for Armstrong were not designed as publicity to help the fight but were part of a deliberate double-cross to sneak one over on Jenkins and "con the bettin' public into lowerin' the odds."

Caplin, here at Jenkins training quarters, said, "we wuz figurin' on treatin' Armstrong nice, an' maybe lettin' him last four rounds because he's an old timer. But after such dirty work, Armstrong don't deserve no consideration. So he goes out wadin two rounds—maybe in the first."

Howling Hymie revealed that he had been suspicious of the Armstrong camp ever since Mead began crying to the newspapers about Armstrong's weight-making difficulties. Ever since Mead announced that the welterweight champ scaled 145 pounds and would be unable to pare down to the contracted 140 pound limit for the Polo Grounds non-title battle yesterday when the New York Boxing commission called Mead's bluff and proved on the commission scales that Armstrong weighed only 138 1/2 pounds.

Millers Lose To Colonels

Louisville Hands Rivals 4th Straight Loss.
(By Associated Press)
The Minneapolis baseball team was quite sure today that it is surrounded by enemies in the American association.

Since the season opened Kansas City has taken picks on the Millers as the two clubs fought for the lead—and most of the time the Blues held the top spot. Now third place Louisville is making things generally miserable for the runner-up Millers, sweeping a four-game series with Minneapolis by taking a 7 to 1 victory last night.

The Minneapolis beating enabled Kansas City to maintain its four-game margin although the Blues were humiliated by last place Toledo, 4 to 2.

St. Paul and Columbus continued their dog fight for fourth place and as both clubs hung up victories, the Saints retained a single game lead over the Red Birds. The 4 to 1 win the Saints scored over Indianapolis was their third consecutive.

Columbus scored a series slam by downing Milwaukee in the final by a 4 to 1 count.

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Cincinnati's Johnny Stevens defeated Lloyd Pie of Akron in a 10-round feature bout here last night. Each scored over 132 1/2.

Reds, Dodgers Open Series

Mike Dejan Joins Cincinnati For Opening Game.
CINCINNATI —(AP)— The Reds were reinforced for a hand-to-hand conflict with the Dodgers, their persistent rivals for the National League leadership, in a series starting tonight.

Mike Dejan, prize slugger of the Southern association who was purchased from Chattanooga for a reported $30,000, reported for duty. Demon Mike has been hitting at a .404 clip with his output including 17 homers.

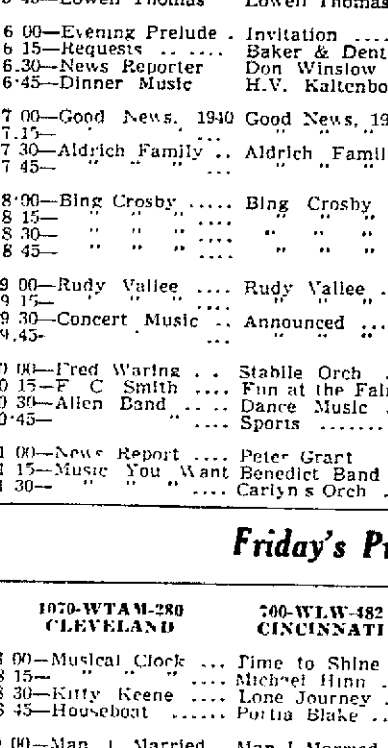

Fresh from twisting the American league lion's tail, Manager Bill McKechnie of the Reds assigned Bucky Walters, a shut-out pitcher for the National league during his stay in Tuesday's All-star game in St. Louis, to duel Curt Davis, obtained by the Dodgers from the Cardinals.

He was trying to sneak in under the lightweight limit of a hundred and thirty-five pounds," Hymie said, "Then he could maybe claim Low's crown. Mead thought, even if the fight is only for 12 rounds."

"Wise guy, huh? Well Armstrong'll hafta weigh over the limit Wednesday or there'll be plenty a trouble. I told Mike Jacobs last night they'd hafta have two weight-ins Wednesday. The first to check Armstrong's weight, so if he's under a hundred and thirty-five he could get a belly full of water and come in at the official weight in, scaling over the limit."

STOPS BOBBY IVY
HARTFORD, Conn., —(AP)— Bobby Ivy, 23 1/2, New York N. B. A. featherweight champion, stopped Bobby (Poison) Ivy, 22 1/2, (15).

Rhinelanders unable to see the star performance in St. Louis looked forward to a classic of their own in the three game series with Durocher's Dodgers.

Whitlow Wyatt, another National league pitcher who blanked the American leaguers was up for service against the Reds, who also had Paul Derringer and Junior Thompson scheduled.

Three-Year-Old Looks Like Hambletonian Contender

TOLEDO — (AP) — Don't overlook a black colt named Spencer Scott as a Hambletonian contender.

The three-year-old won three straight heats to capture the $427 Matron stake, first major test for the 1940 Hambletonian eligible, and featured race of last night's Grand Circuit harness program at Fort Miami track.

Smart, Harry Short and Vice Fleming were fined $25 each and suspended for the rest of the night's program for beating the barrier in the second heat of the trotting club stake, the first event.

Aphronie Flaxey Guy, bay horse driven by Berry, captured the $500 12 class trot, stepping off the distance in 2:04 1/4, in each heat.

The winner, owned by C. W. Phillips of Greenwich, Conn., and driven by Fred Egan, finished less than a length in front of Remus, driven by Harry Short, in the first two heats and was pressed to nose out the bay colt in the third. Kuno, winter book favorite for the Hambletonian at Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 14, finished third. Times for the mile were 2:05 3/4, 2:03 and 2:05 1/4.

The four other races on last night's program also were won in straight heats, with H. M. (Doc) Parshall of Urbana, O., piloting two winners.

He drove Dazzle Direct, brown gelding, to victory in the $1,000 12 class pace in 2:03 3/4 and 2:00 3/4, and took Blackstone, a bay horse, across the finish line first to claim top money on the $800 free-for-all pace. Blackstone's times were 2:03 1/4 and 2:00.

Finishing three lengths in front in each heat, Spud Hanover won the $1,318 trotting club stake in 2:04 1/4 and 2:05 1/4. Harry Pownall was in the chestnut horse's sulky. Milestone, bay gelding, MAKES 41 RINGERS

GALION — In a horseshoe contest here, Tuesday night, at Heise park, Ernest Pry made 41 ringers out of 50 shoes pitched, an average of 82 per cent which is above the record made by the world champion, Ted Allen, it was stated by his colleagues.

Coaching duties of the men have not been assigned, although Mackey has been a favorite for the position of head football

RICHLAND FARM OWNERS SAVING $15,000 A YEAR

New Legislation Reducing Interest on U. S. Loans Help to Ruralites.

Richland county farmers will save more than $15,000 a year in interest payments on federal loans as the result of legislation just enacted by congress, reducing the rates on Federal land bank and Land Bank commission loans it was announced today.

Congress continued the temporary rate of 3 1/2 per cent on first mortgage land bank loans for a period of two years. During the two-year period the interest rate on first and second mortgage Land Bank commission loans will be reduced from 4 to 3 1/2 per cent. The loans were originally written at contract rates averaging about 5 per cent.

Approximately 125 county farmers have land bank and commission loans totaling $1,023,500, while from 60 to 80 per cent of the county's farm families use some kind of credit during the year, according to W. E. Slough of Springfield township, president of the Ashland Production Credit association.

Slough pointed out that hundreds of farmers in Richland and surrounding counties not only use credit in buying home furnishings, automobiles and personal articles, but obtain federal loans to help them over the hard places in farm operation.

Commenting on the reduced interest rate, A. G. Black, governor of the Farm Credit administration, thus leave more income for the farmer "the ultimate purpose of the retirement of debt principal, or to reduced rate is to help farmers meet necessary operating and living expenses."

NO FLOWERS WANTED HERE

Florists Convention Has No Use for Posies.

DALLAS—UP—A little negro boy stood in the foyer of one of Dallas' largest hotels. He clutched a slightly soiled handful of Cape jasmine.

"Is this yere a convention, or what?" he asked mournfully. "It looks like a convention, but it don't buy like no convention. They all says they got plenty of flowers themselves."

It was a convention all right—the Texas State Florists' association.

Elwood, Ind., is so proud of its most prominent native son that it wouldn't surprise us if soon the center of that town is where Wendell street crosses Willkie avenue.

AIRCRAFT AND STEELS STAGE SLIGHT RALLY

Wary Traders Await Outcome of War Developments and Convention.

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK—Steels and aircrafts engineered a little rally of their own in today's stock market but failed to attract much of a following.
Dealings slowed after a fairly active opening and early gains running to 2 or more points were well sliced near the fourth hour.
Many traders still refused to step out pending more light on European war shifts and outcome of the Democratic convention.
Bonds were selectively higher and commodities mixed. "Free" sterling backed away in terms of the dollar.
Stocks in front at one time or another included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Lockheed, Glenn Martin and Western Union.
Steels were aided by the belief in this industry mills would continue to operate at satisfactory levels for many months.
The engineering news-record estimated the country's construction awards for the week ended Tuesday at the peak level for the year to date. The total topped the previous week by 210 per cent and the like week a year ago by 69 per cent.

Registration for New Y. M. Camp Period Underway

Registrations opened today at the Y. M. C. A. for an additional one-week camping period at the "Y" summer camp at Camp Nelson Dodd, near Brinkhaven. This session begins July 21, at the conclusion of the present two-week period, and continues through July 28, according to Ralph B. Chapman, general secretary. This period is being held to accommodate those boys who are unable to attend for two weeks. Mansfield's quota for the third period has been set at 20 boys, Chapman said. The program for this period will be the same as the one in force now at camp. There are 28 Mansfield boys attending camp this week. They will return home Sunday afternoon. Sunday is set aside as visitors' day. Last Sunday about 150 parents and relatives visited the boys, Chapman said.

REMARRY AFTER PROOF MISSING

NEW BRITAIN, Conn.—(U.P.)—Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Cefalu were married 27 years ago. But Cefalu couldn't prove it when he sought citizenship papers. The justice of peace who performed the ceremony failed to file a record of the marriage in the town clerk's office. There was only one thing to do. Cefalu married his wife all over again.

Starts Services

Rev. C. F. Smith of Cochran, Pa., above, will conduct a series of revival meetings beginning Sunday at the Pilgrim Holiness church, 298 Newman street. Opening Sunday services will be held nightly through July 28, and are open to the public.

BEAR SCARED AWAY BY DOG

Pet's Barking Saves Child Who Wanted to Play.

FAIRBANKS, ALASKA (AP)—Strike off a medal for whiskers, a little black dog owned by the Sherman Noyes family. Their 5-year-old daughter, Dierdre, was left at a cabin on the Yukon while the mother and friends went out on a boat.

Pretty soon Whiskers' barking attracted their attention. They saw, with horror, Dierdre attempting to play with a large black bear.

Whiskers, however, barked and leaped at the bear's flanks and so distracted it that it finally shuffled off into the brush, leaving the girl unharmed.

CHAPTER XXIV

One of the most upsetting things in the world is a pretty woman in tears.

Dr. Archibald Montgomery, Phi Beta Kappa and Ph. D., had encountered girls and women a great deal during his professional career, but, until now, he could not recall being alone with one who was crying. He had no experience to draw on, nor had he learned anything about this phenomenon from the textbooks.

"Rosemary!" he spoke in a low, awed manner, holding out a hand and leaning over a little.

She turned to face him directly, then. Her big and lovely eyes still held tears, and her upper lip was drawn tight in her effort at self-control. Her look was infinitely appealing.

"Rosemary, you must not cry! Don't cry!"

It was what he would have said to a little child.

"No," she agreed, simply. "Sometimes, though, I can't help it, Monty. I—I think I shall be all right now."

There was a little lingering sob or two, and then she turned on a faucet by the pump he had just repaired and washed her face and hands. He held out a clean, folded pocket handkerchief.

"Thank you, Monty."

For a minute or so neither spoke again. She dried her face, tied her hair and brushed off dust and trash because she had been sitting on the ground.

"I can not bear to see you in distress," he murmured then, ever so earnestly. "You must tell me what it is. If I can possibly do anything—"

She smiled then, a little wanly but appreciatively even so. He wanted to put an arm around her as he might have done a little sister, but he made no move.

"It's nothing—around here. Nothing any of my friends can do to help, I am afraid—but thanks, Monty."

He swallowed, waiting. After a bit he touched her elbow.

"Please come and sit in the shade a little while. If you don't feel like talking, no matter. Perhaps a little quiet companionship—or I could go get your friend Sue, or—"

"No. No thanks. Let's just sit together a moment." She smiled at him with assurance then. "There's no friend I'd rather have near me than you, Monty. And I do want to talk."

He escorted her to a nearby spot where they could sit on a fallen log lean back against living trees and gaze over the lake. It was very peaceful and beautiful.

"I received an awful letter," she began at once. "I couldn't think what to do, and so I came off to be alone for awhile. Then I was terribly homesick, and I couldn't resist crying."

He nodded, encouragingly. "A letter?"

"Yes. From my brother Jack. Not from him, but about him, I mean. He's the only family I have. He's in trouble again. Serious trouble."

Monty did not speak. He just waited.

"I haven't seen Jack in two years or more. He never would stay put. He's an even worse jump about than I am. Hunting for happiness, I suppose!"

She said that last somewhat desolately; plainly, tears threatened again. Monty turned to her with a gesture.

"Haven't you found at least some happiness here, Rosemary?"

"Oh, yes! Yes, I have, and that's what is so distressing. Monty, for the first time in my life I was in love!"

"In—love?" Monty's excitement suddenly mounted.

"Yes! Monty, I can confide in you, I know. I—I just couldn't help falling for Bob King! But now—"

"King? You mean—King?"

"Yes," she was not looking at him. She stared off at the lake, wrapped in her own thoughts and talking through them. She had no inkling of the shock her admission caused. For a long time he said nothing at all, nor gave any indication of the misery with him.

"The letter couldn't have come at a worse possible time," she murmured.

Monty didn't even hear her. He in turn was deep in himself, fighting a silent battle. He held outward poise that gave no hint of the turbulence within.

So, Rosemary loved Bob King, after all.

He had given bare thought to the possibility and discarded it as an unlikely circumstance. They were not at all alike. They were from different backgrounds. They had little or nothing in common. Why — King was by no means deep enough or good enough for Rosemary!

He turned suddenly as if to cry out that salient fact. But he knew it wouldn't do to speak his mind. Love is—love. It is a powerful thing but it is not a result of reasoning. He could not will it away, he realized, any more than he could will it into being.

In the quarter hour or so that he sat near her there on the log, Monty's soul touched tragedy deeper than it had ever known before. He wanted verily to burst into tears himself; tears of desperation. Rosemary was literally at his elbow, and literally a million miles away. Close enough for him to actually feel her nearness; nevertheless he dared not touch her at all.

The young man inhaled deeply, forcing self-control, and then because his brilliant mind was made up he set in to say what he now had to say.

"Rosemary," he began, his voice strained, "all I can say is that I wish you every happiness, all your life. I—ah, am sure Mr. King will make your life complete."

"Oh, Monty, do you think he will? He is grand, isn't he? So handsome and strong and all. Isn't he?"

Her questioning somewhat took him back. Was there any uncertainly in her mind? Any doubt? Could she be — no of course not! Monty knew then that hers was just an outburst of enthusiasm. His cue, he realized anew, was to do the gracious thing at any price.

"Mr. King is a fine man, I am absolutely sure, Rosemary. You can be very happy with him. I—as, shall hunt him up and congratulate him and wish him well also. You deserve the best, and—"

"Mr. McKee likes him a lot!"

"Yes, of course he does. King is very capable. Dependable. His record must be one to be proud of, and with you to inspire him and—"

"Monty, I think he loves me, too!"

He looked closely at her again. Monty hadn't thought, to question that. He had just assumed that the love was a mutual affair. How, indeed, could it possibly be otherwise, with a girl so altogether charming? But evidently King had not actually spoken yet. Doubtless he would do so. Soon.

COUNTY'S ROAD PROGRAM FALLS WEEKS BEHIND

Late Start to Hurry Workers To Finish 30 Miles of Roadway This Year.

Richland county's road program is six weeks behind normal schedule because of inclement weather throughout the spring and early summer period, Engineer H. C. Sword said today.

Both the regular road program and WPA highway projects in the county have been held up by the continued rains and even with the best of weather from now on it will hurry the department to finish them by the end of the year, Sword said.

This year's program includes 30 miles of construction and reconstruction, of which six miles are county roads and 24 are township roads, costing $38,580; and 19 miles of resurfacing roads by WPA labor.

There are 36 separate roads in the regular program and less than a fourth of these have been completed, Sword said, because of the delayed start. The work started May 10. There are 65 regular workers on the job and 20 seasonal workers.

Longest stretch of work is the Brokaw road south east of Butler which is three miles in length.

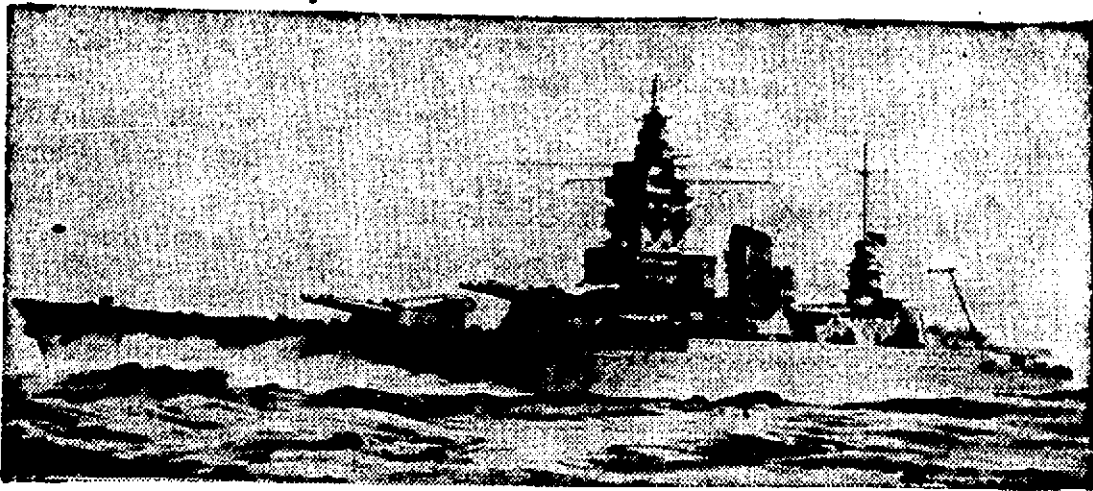

The WPA road projects for the county include a stretch on the Olivesburg-Fitchville road, the Ontario-Shelby road, the Little Washington, Possum Run and Pleasant Valley roads and the Mt. Zion road.

There are 100 WPA workers on these jobs, Sword said.

The 1940 bridge program which includes construction of 20 county bridges, is about one third completed and will be finished by the middle of November.

SMOKE SCREEN WORKED
LONDON —(AP)— Hailed by a sentry when forced down in German territory, Pilot Officer Alexander Macleod, 34, pretended not to hear, and sat on a riverbank to smoke a cigar. Satisfied he was a German, the sentries let him reach the British lines.

British Keep French Sea Giant From Nazis

Here is a view of the French battleship, Richelieu, largest and newest in the French fleet. British naval action has prevented the 35,000-ton vessel from falling into German hands. The Richelieu was not commissioned before the French collapse but was said to have been completed. The battleship was damaged at Dakar, French West Africa.

Accordion Band To Give Second Concert Sunday

Features of the concert will be Helen Sampel, accordion soloist, Gene Gump, who will present several comedy selections accompanied by the band, and Russell Dochia who will be heard in vocal selections and who will also announce the various numbers.

The concert is scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. and will be presented from the band platform located near the lake. Similar concerts will be held at the park every Sunday evening for the remainder of the summer. All are open to the public.

Smaller Social Clubs Take Foreground as Warmer Days Arrive; Many Groups Plan Future Entertainment.

YESTERDAY was really summer! The mercury soared, and folk in the down town area steamed as the reflected rays of a scorching sun bounced back from sidewalks and buildings, but activities in the Mansfield area continued as usual with a number of groups moving to the city parks or their hostess' lawn for their meetings.

Despite the heat 40 members of the Women of the Moose gathered at the Moose home for their business meeting which was in charge of Ethel Ferrell, senior regent. A report of the national convention which was held June 29 to July 4 at Des Moines, Iowa, was given by Mrs. Regina Gresser, delegate.

The program of the state conference which will be held at Steubenville Aug. 22 to 25 was read, and four new members were initiated. The next regular meeting will be held July 24.

Paradoxically members of the Thursday Mothers club met yesterday for a covered-dish dinner at North Lake park. They will have another dinner Aug. 1 at the home of Mrs. Boyd Keith, 226 West Fifth street.

All members of the Do-Be-There club were present when Mrs. Harold Hedges entertained at 200 Bowland road. Cards were played following the brief business meeting, and prizes were won by Mrs. Adam Schmidt, Mrs. Gilbert Mast and Mrs. May Bookman. A shower of miscellaneous gifts was presented to Mrs. Hedges.

Luncheon was served at a long table decorated with garden flowers.

Treatment
For Large
Pores

By MME. QUI VIVE
Believe it, or curl up your cute little nose, but the best means of correcting enlarged pores is to have ten minutes of vigorous exercise when you get up in the morning, followed by a rousing old bath with soap, warm water and a brush that takes hold like the pangs of a guilty conscience. Exercise makes the blood streams hustling—and poor circulation is often responsible for a skin of coarse texture—and the daily scouring helps the skin to function.

We see disappointment on the faces of members of the beauty class who worry about this beauty ill. What they are looking for is a magic lotion that they can dab on their pretty faces for a few nights, and exchange a pitted skin for one that is of fine fabric. It can't be done. Local treatment will help, but it has to be backed up by hygienic measures. What's ten minutes of deep breathing, bending and stretching? Every woman wastes that much time many times a day in needless gabbling. The bath is necessary for health and self respect. Good habits, both of them.

There is the matter of food to be considered. Heavy eaters have coarse skins. Go light on fat meats, rich gravies, pasties. Sioke up on fruits, green salads, vegetables, lean meats, poultry, fish and cereals.

When washing the face use warm water, not hot applications. The water should be warm enough to form a rich suds Soap is necessary in treatment of enlarged pores because they lead to blackheads. After the soapy cleansing rinse with warm water, then with cold. Give a few whisks with an ice cube. Ice is more effective when the skin is glowing from a scrubbing and friction.

Use witch hazel or your favorite astringent. A good idea is to make a mask of gauze—several layers—with an opening for the nostrils so that breathing is comfortable. Dip the gauze in ice cold witch hazel, lay it over the face. As the flesh warms, apply a fresh compress.

During this treatment it would be wise to slow up on creams and other oily applications. Unless the skin is unusually dry, in which event you can use a little cream after the face has been washed with cold water in the morning. Soap once a day is enough. Don't let the cream on long. Remove it with cleansing tissues in half an hour.

Select a light powder, don't grind it into the flesh. If a compact rouge shows up pink dots in the pores, as sometimes happens, use powder first.

Drink plenty of milk. It helps to rebuild and beautify the skin structure.

Golfers Play as Guests of Other
Clubs This Week

Women members of both Westbrook Country club and Possum Run Golf course were busy yesterday, as a group from Westbrook were guests at the Lancaster Country club, while the stay-at-homes enjoyed a bridge-tee. There were 22 tables in play with Mrs. F. J. Heringhaus in charge. Mrs. C. V. McConnell won the grand prize, and Miss Lucille Knarns was the recipient of the high score prize. A bouquet of white flowers centered the tea table.

Tomorrow Westbrook women will play at the Ashland club, while on Tuesday they will have regular matches at their own course. The next social function on the schedule is a buffet luncheon July 24 with Mrs. F. A. Voegel in charge.

Members of Possum Run women's association met Wednesday and played for low net. Winners were Mrs. Al Kushin, first flight; Mrs. W. W. Grant, second, and Mrs. Harold Stauffer, third flight.

At noon luncheon was served at the club house and during the afternoon more golf was played by the group. Next Wednesday the association members will play again, meeting at 9 a. m.

Dance Last Night

The third in the series of dances for boys and girls of junior high school age was held last evening at the Johnny Applesseed Junior high school with many young people and their chaperones in attendance. These recreational events have been sponsored by the Mansfield board of education, the school faculty and the parents.

Dancing was the diversion from 7:30 until 10:30 p. m. with music furnished by Eugene Ropp and his orchestra. A floor show was presented which consisted of two tap dances given by Robert Baker, Eugene Traxell and John Berger, and a piano solo by Miss Catherine Schaller.

Chaperones were Harold Ramsey and W. B. Huber of the school faculty, and the following parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Hieber, Mr. and Mrs. William Fenn, and Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Bushman. The date of the next dance will be announced later.

CHURCH SOCIETIES
HAVE MANY EVENTS

Groups Plan Special Events for Late July, August; Routine Sessions Conducted at Homes of Various Members.

EVEN though there is a degree of variation from day to day and week to week in the activity of clubs and study groups, the schedule of church organizations and societies is pleasantly stable. Yesterday Mrs. Ruby Hassinger, 105 1/2 South Franklin street, was hostess to members of the Hartford circle of the United Brethren church. Mrs. Helen Glathart selected "Patriotism" as the topic for the devotions.

Mrs. Kenneth Portz was a guest. The next meeting will be a steak fry Aug. 13 with the place to be announced later.

There were 14 members and three guests of the Star class of the United Brethren church present yesterday at North Lake park for a picnic. Mrs. A. J. Stevenson, Shepard road, with Mrs. William Hursh assisting will entertain Aug. 14.

Mrs. Harry Keil, Harker street, was hostess for the routine business meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the First Brethren church yesterday. Mrs. Howard Richard was in charge, and Mrs. Harold Thoma invited the group to her home, 444 North Mulberry street, Aug. 14. Mrs. Cecil Friend will have charge of the meeting at that time.

Plans were made to hold an all-day birthday party Aug. 14 when members of the Esther class of the Mayflower Congregational church met with Mrs. Imo Davis, Longview avenue, and Mrs. Cleo Hain-er. The affair will be held at the home of Mrs. Earnest Adams, 620 Bowman street, with Mrs. John Watts as associate.

Mrs. Hainer conducted the business session, and Miss Dorothy Hainer was a guest. Mrs. W. H. Husung and Mrs. J. R. Heilman were the prize winners.

Seventeen members of the Catherine Von Bora class of the First Lutheran church and seven guests were present Wednesday evening for a covered-dish dinner meeting at the parish house. The business session was in charge of Mrs. Clarence Fike, president.

During the social hour Misses Janice and Joan Brandt sang several numbers; Miss Dorothy Spellman gave a reading and Miss Mary Jane Boylan sang a solo. Mrs. Tracy Charles entertained the group with an account of her trip to the western states.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. George Prince, Mrs. Cecil Cramer, Mrs. George Brightbill, Miss Marjorie High and Mrs. Clarence Fike. The next meeting will be held at the parish house sometime in September.

Garden Graph

By DEAN HALLIDAY

1st CUT
2nd CUT
7-11

REPEAT BLOOMINGS OF DELPHINIUMS

Many gardeners disagree about the advisability of cutting back the first delphinium bloom to secure a second and even a third flowering. Some argue that this reduces the plant's vigor. Others take the stand that the strength of the plant is not impaired, and exhibit strong, healthy plants which are proudly displaying second blooms.

As shown in today's Garden Graph, when the flowers on the main spike of a delphinium begin to fade, the stalk should be cut out. This will throw all the plant's energy into the secondary buds. As these lateral sprays also begin to fade they also should be cut off. This again will throw the plant's energy into the next set of lateral buds.

When the complete blossom fades the stalk should be cut back one foot from the ground. The open end of the remaining stalk should be sealed with a piece of chewing gum or melted paraffin. This will prevent insects or rain from entering the opening in the stalk and causing disease or rot. After cutting back the main stalk let the plant rest for ten days, then water it well and give it a feeding of a complete fertilizer in order to encourage further blooming.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

We had only the fraction of a second for action, but with a simultaneous movement, we stepped from the underbrush, leveled our pistols at him, while Lillian spoke from the side of her mouth, in a tone that the sharpest ears could not have recognized as a woman's.

"Not a sound if you don't want the top of your head blown off!" she said. "And raise the fingers and sky high—all of 'em!"

I think that in the history of the world there have been few more surprised men than was Jack Leslie to hear this ultimatum come from the underbrush, hiding place of which he had thought himself to be the sole tenant.

As it was, however, he checked himself in mid-swing, raised his hands and kept his mouth closed. But his eyes were fixed with intent attention on us, and I knew that the least faltering in our own watchfulness would mean his springing at us.

Keeping her pistol unfaltering, I trained upon him. Lillian moved closer to me, and with the fingers of her left hand began to tap out a message in the Morse alphabet against my shoulder.

"Not once if you understand," she tapped over and over, until finally, even through the thick cloth of Jim's overcoat I was able to understand, and gave the nod she asked.

"Any word you don't get nod twice," she tapped, "but nod once at the end of every sentence if you're following me."

She stopped, and I dutifully nodded once, and she went on slowly, prodding her taps as deeply as possible into my shoulder.

"One of us must watch him every minute," she tapped, "and one must watch what happens in the road. I'll take the first watch on him, and signal you when my eyes get tired."

At her, "Ready now! I'm on watch!" I took my eyes from Leslie and trained them on the melodrama being played in the road outside.

It was nearly over, I saw. Watson and Blake, with two of our men ranged on either side, were standing by the side of the gangsters' car, while two of the gangsters, one with the supposed box of Queen Olga's emeralds attached to his wrist, had reached Dicky's car, driven by Harry Underwood. But just before our guards were about to assist the supposed Mary to her seat, Dicky spoke peremptorily. "Just a second!" he said. "Don't get in there, Mary, for a minute."

"Now what's eating you?" the leader of the gangsters asked with infinite disgust in his voice. "We haven't seen inside this box yet," Dicky said. "I never did like buying a pig in a poke. We're going to satisfy ourselves that

What is the lowest card you ever finessed? A four or five? Suppose somebody told you he had successfully finessed a three-spot? And that it was an absolutely necessary play, as his only chance to make his contract? That actually occurred on a most unusual hand some four years ago, which will never be forgotten by any of those who witnessed it:

On West's lead of clubs, East took two tricks and led a third, which South ruffed with the A. The spade Q was covered and ruffed with the diamond 4, the spade J covered and ruffed with the diamond 5, the diamond 6 led to the diamond 8, then the spade 9 covered by the 10 and ruffed by the diamond 9. The diamond 10 was then led to the J and South was ready for his one shot in a million.

He led the spade 3. This card was so low that West expected it to be trumped by the dummy's Q. Paying no particular attention to it, he played his spade 2. Declarer then reached over into the dummy and discarded the heart 4. His contract was now safe. The spade 5 enabled him on the very next trick to get rid of the dummy's last loser, the heart 10, leaving nothing there but the heart A and the diamond Q.

Of course, you may say, West could have played his spade 4 on the 3 and thus could have prevented one discard. That is true, but the fact is that South hoped he would not, and his hopes were realized.

Memorable as this hand was, for a low finesse, a still lower card has been sent through successfully.

the goods we're buying are up to specifications. Where's the key for the box?"

The man with the box attached to his wrist looked at his leader for instructions.

"Oh! give it to him!" the leader said wearily, and the man took two keys from his pocket and handed them to Dicky.

"One's for the padlock on my wrist, and the other's for the box," he explained.

GERMANS CLAIM SUBMARINE WAR STRANGLES FOE

Assert British Shipping Loss In Past 6 Weeks Higher Than in World War.

were warned up to meet any come-back attack after the war's hardest air fight over Great Britain.

There was no sign of a dawn
attack that Sir Edward Grigg, undersecretary of state for war,
predicted would make yesterday's heavy bombing and bitter dogfights only the prelude to real blitzkrieg. Sir Edward told commons:

"Thousands of our soldiers will be on the alert, waiting for an attack which may come in several places at dawn."

Members of parliament interpreted this as emphasizing that Britain's defense forces are always ready these days.

British guns and fighter planes brought down 14 of yesterday's raiders and badly damaged 23 others. An undisclosed number of persons were killed in inland bombings. At times as many as 150 planes battled over the coast.

Germany claimed one cruiser sunk, another damaged and four merchant ships sunk and three others hit in a bombing raid on a convoy in the Straits of Dover.

The British government, meanwhile, virtually gave up hope that Ireland (Eire) and Northern Ireland (Ulster) would work out a defense pact to strengthen Ireland to resist a possible German attack to gain a foothold for a blow at England.

Canada opened her first full-fledged recruiting campaign to raise 40,000 men for the Canadian active service force and to train 37,000 militiamen during early August.

Paraguay received for consideration a new constitution widening the powers of President Jose Felix Esquivar's administration in the social and economic spheres, and centralizing authority. A plebiscite will be held Aug. 4.

A meeting of Japanese at Shanghai last night called for official apology for mistreatment they said was accorded Japanese military police who were arrested by U. S. Marines when they entered the marines' defense district without permission. Marine Commader Col. Dewitt Peck said only three of 16 Japanese were bruised severely enough to require "iodine
treatment."

Italy Admits Loss of 220 on Ship.

(By Associated Press)
ROME—Two hundred twenty Italian and Albanian officers and men lost their lives when the Italian motorship Paganini burned and sank June 28 off Durazzo, Albania, it was officially announced today.

The ship was en route from Bari,
Italy, to Durazzo with 920 soldiers and 30 seamen aboard.

Escorting ships went to the rescue at once, the communicate said.
The cause of the fire was not given. The Paganini, 2,427 tons, is registered out of Fiume, Italy.

Meanwhile, military headquarters announced today that 151 Italian fliers were killed or missing and 103 wounded in the first 20 days of the war against Britain.

A list of casualties headed by the name of Marshal Italo Balbo (recently killed in Africa) showed 78 dead and 75 missing up to June 30.

British Claim Destroyer Sunk.

LONDON—(A.P.) The admiralty reported today that an Italian destroyer and "a bulk of the type generally used as a depot or store ship" were sunk yesterday by British warplanes in a raid on an Italian harbor north of Augusta, Sicily.

Assembly Puts End
To Third Republic.
ZURICH—(A.P.) France became a totalitarian state today after the national assembly had confirmed dictatorial powers on the premier and ended the third republic.

Premier Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, who was given supreme power to set up the new regime, will address the nation by radio tonight and former Ambassador to Poland Leon Noel will confer with German authorities in Paris on the future of the occupied and unoccupied regions of France.

"France now becomes an authoritarian and corporative state," a dispatch to the newspaper Petit Dauphinois at Gre-noble explained, but from Berlin came persistent warnings that the burial of the republic had come too late to soften the Nazi-Fascist peace terms.

A plebiscite will be held on the new constitution as a result of a last-minute demand by some members of parliament, according to German dispatches from Berlin, but it was not believed that the battle would be more than a last malady.

OHIO CORN CROP
WASHINGTON—(A.P.) The department of agriculture today estimated Ohio 1939 corn production at 1,322,000,000 bushels. National production was estimated at 2, 415,968,000 bushels.

HUNGARY JOINS AXIS COMBINE

Waits for Balkan Revision and Keeps Economic Roads Open.

for the economic needs of the belligerents and thus no disturbance can be tolerated.

All three of these powers, German sources said, are striving to free the Balkans of all hatreds and injustices, with the aim of a durable peace.

The German press devoted increased attention today to United States affairs, speculating on what effect Nazi victories would have on the Democratic national convention.

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung suggested anyone at the Chicago convention "still placing the British fate ahead of the American should bear in mind that France's fate was sealed in six weeks."

Rumania Looks For 'Breathing Spell.'

BUCHAREST, Rumania—(A.P.)
Rumanians looked forward today to a breathing spell, believing that Russia, Hungary and Bulgaria would not molest them until after the battle for Great Britain.

In that time it was expected that this country would get over the shock of Russia's seizure of Bessarabia and North Bukovina and brace itself for more territorial adjustments if Germany and Italy defeat Britain.

It was agreed, however, that the showdown over Hungary's and Bulgaria's claims and possibly on further demands by Russia, was only postponed and not averted by the enforcement of a Balkan status quo.

The idea of wholesale exchanges of populations in connection with any more Rumanian territorial adjustments was gaining favor here. It was believed this might ensure permanency of what was left of the country.

DEFENSE GETS FULL SUPPORT OF CONGRESS

Two-Ocean Fleet Measure Adopted by Senate; Recess Starts.

existing arms backlog. Senator Frazier (R.-N.D.) said the recommendation sounded as if it were
"for a foreign war, rather than national defense."

Mr. Roosevelt, in his message divided his request into $2,161-441,957 cash and $2,686,730,000 contract appropriations.

The objectives, he said, were five-fold:

1. To carry forward construction of a fleet equal to any possible hostile combination.
2. To provide equipment for an army of 1,200,000 men.
3. To build up a reserve of tanks, artillery, ammunition for another 800,000 troops, if they should be needed.
4. To gear industrial resources not only to produce defense items now on schedule, but also to supply an army of 2,000,000, if necessary.
5. To produce 15,000 more planes for the army, and 4,000 more for the navy.

The first point listed by Mr.
Roosevelt contemplates an actual start of construction of the "two ocean" navy. The bill which the senate passed yesterday authorized a seven-year program to add the necessary 200 combat ships to the fleet but carried no funds to get work under way.

The recommendation for 19,000 more planes looked to creation of a combined air force of 36,000 planes by the autumn of 1941—a big jump toward the president's 50,000-plane goal.

Mr. Roosevelt recounted his past efforts in behalf of preparedness and his statements on the international situation during the last seven years.

He coined a phrase—"the new enslavement"—to describe the threats which he saw to the nation today.

"That we are opposed to war is known not only to every American, but to every government in the world," he asserted, and then enunciated a two-fold policy:

"We will not use our arms in a war of aggression; we will not send our men to take part in European wars."

"But we will repel aggression against the United States or the western hemisphere."

He gave indirect endorsement to compulsory training legislation
now pending in congress.

Senator Lodge (R., Mass.), an army reserve captain, immediately introduced a bill calling for selective service for enough men between 21 and 25 to give the army a standing force of 750,000, or treble its existing strength.

Mr. Roosevelt's statement that no doughboys would be sent to European battlefields was hailed by some congressional leaders as foreshadowing a strong "non-intervention" plank in the Democratic platform.

The recessing of congress tonight for the Democratic national convention precluded immediate action on the new defense program, but plans were made to start work on it by July 22.

Before the recess three members of the house military committee, back from a survey of northeastern coast defenses, recommended that the United States acquire and fortify fleet and air bases in Nova Scotia and Bermuda.

British Predict Famine In Nazi-Occupied Territory

CHARGE FOOD STRIPPED FOR USE OF REICH

Figures Given on Present Strict Rationing In Conquered Lands.

(By United Press) LONDON — An authoritative British statement charged today that Germany is stripping occupied territories of virtually all food stocks and raw materials and, as a result, food shortages, possibly famine, were likely this winter.

The statement described strict food rationing established in the German-occupied territories while food was being poured into Germany from those regions.

The statement said that the use of the little stocks of raw materials left in occupied territories was severely restricted. Many industries, particularly those consuming iron, rubber and cotton, needed German permission to operate.

In Denmark, according to the statement, each person is rationed to one and one-quarter kilograms (about two and three-fourths pounds) of sugar monthly while the surplus is sent to Germany. The coffee ration is one quarter of a kilogram (slightly more than half a pound) monthly while tea is limited to 50 grams (about two ounces) monthly.

In Norway, according to the statement, there is an acute shortage of milk and eggs in towns. No coal, coke or cinders are allowed to be issued to small industries or households. They are compelled to use wood and peat.

In Holland, the statement cited the action of the German general commissioner in reducing cattle farming to conform with home fodder production. It said that meat from the slaughtered cattle of Holland would be taken to the Reich.

In German-occupied France, according to the statement, all agricultural products and foodstuffs and semi-manufactured products have been requisitioned by German military authorities.

BIRTH CERTIFICATES NOT ONLY MEANS OF CITIZENSHIP PROOF

Take it easy, folks. . . While the local probate court and board of health officials continued to receive an increasing number of requests for birth certificates today from persons planning to travel to Canada, John L. Zurbrich, district immigration official at Detroit, was telling United States citizens that only "proof of citizenship" is needed to re-enter the state from the dominion.

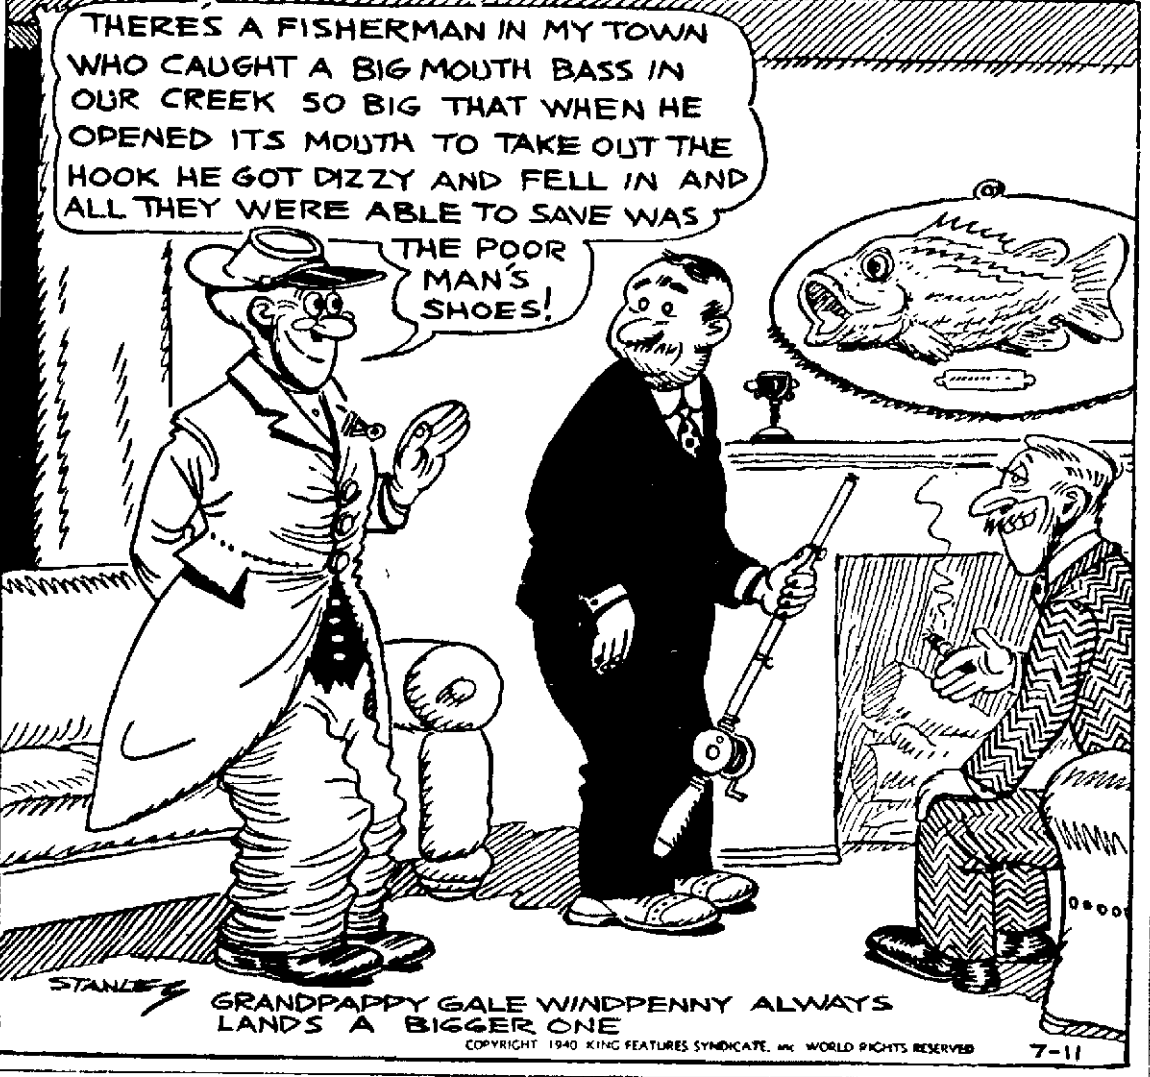

Of course, the best proof of citizenship is a birth certificate, Zurbrich admitted, but other documents will serve.

In an International News Service dispatch he listed as acceptable proof of U. S. citizenship:

- Baptismal certificates, voting registration cards, old passports, concealed weapon permits, or any certificate on which the oath of citizenship is taken.

COUNTY FAIR TO FEATURE GIRL SHOT FROM BALLOON-CANNON

The Richland county fair this year will go back to the old-time balloon ascension days but the attraction fair directors will offer of that type this year will have a "streamlined" effect.

The directors today completed arrangements with the "Flying Allens" balloon ascension performers who climb to lofty heights and then drop in parachutes but in a manner different than that of the old time "chutists."

Instead of dropping from a basket fastened to the gas-filled balloon, the performers will be carried high in the air in a cannon fastened to the bottom of the gas bag.

Reaching a height of 3,000 feet, the cannon explodes and shoots out Miss Florence Allen, 18-year-old ascensionist, and she floats to earth in a parachute.

R. D. Hale, fair board secretary, said the balloon-cannon ascension will be held in the afternoons of three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

It will be given in addition to the regular afternoon performances of the circus and rodeo shows, the Pine Ridge Revue, the Boone County Jamboree and performances by Cleveland's Troop A, of mounted police officers to be staged before the grandstand on those two afternoons.

"The fair directors booked this sensational balloon ascension act along with the host of other top-notch entertainment features to give fairgoers the best in attractions," Hale said.

"We eliminated harness racing from the program this year due to the lack of patronage in other years, believing that the public preferred such entertainment as circus acts and outstanding hill-

PREPAREDNESS PLAN MAPPED

Richland Physicians Waiting Details of Association's Emergency Program.

Mansfield and Richland county physicians will be called upon to organize their resources for call in case of a national emergency, according to news dispatches from Columbus today.

Ohio's 9,000 physicians will be called upon to set up their own preparedness program, Dr. William Skipp, of Youngstown, president of the Ohio Medical association, said.

Dr. Skipp announced the formation of a committee on medical preparedness to co-operate with all agencies engaged in the national defense program.

One of the committee's first steps will be to make a survey to determine each doctor's military experience and which of them would be immediately available for military service.

As chairman of the committee Dr. Skipp appointed Dr. Harry V. Parzyk of Cleveland, who is president-elect of the state medical association.

Dr. R. V. Meyers, president of the Richland County Medical association, said today that he had not been informed of the plan but that when the information came he would present it to his group.

MANSFIELDERS HEAR TALK BY MRS. ROOSEVELT

Delegation Hears 'First Lady' Urge Compulsory Training at Lakeside Meeting.

A number of Mansfield residents motored to Lakeside last night to hear Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the president, when she addressed 4,500 club women of northern Ohio attending the 46th annual meeting of the Lakeside Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Roosevelt advocated compulsory training for the youth of America as a part of national defense.

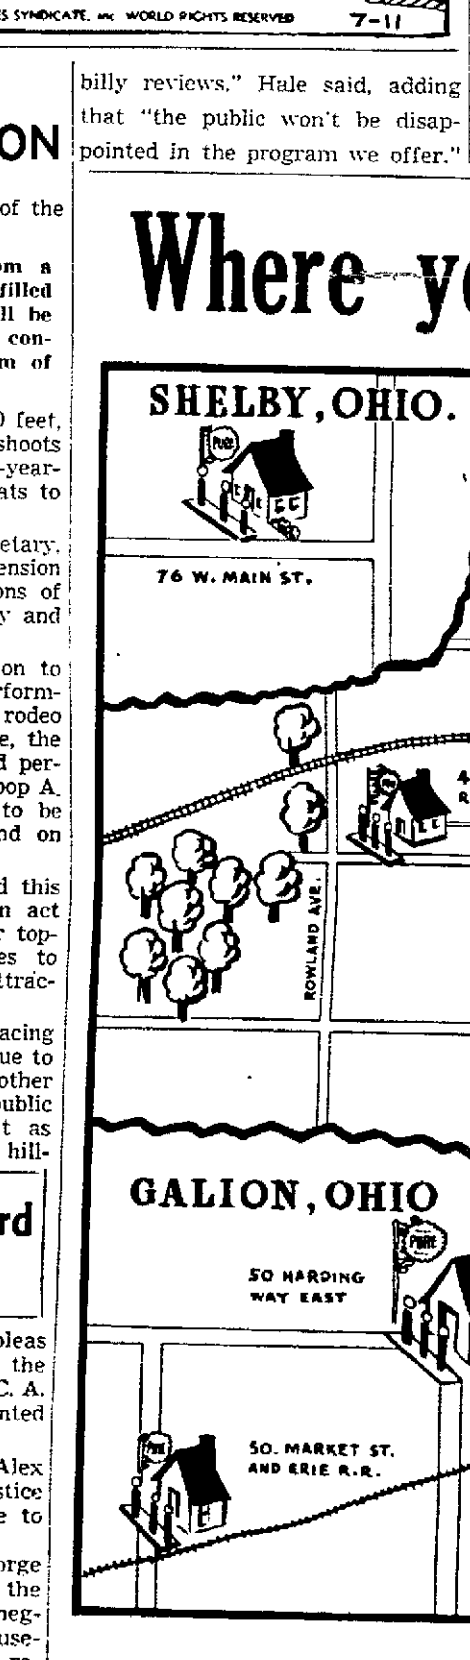

"The 'first lady,' who has interested herself in the problems of youth, said that she differed from her husband, in that he was opposed to making the training compulsory, whereas she believed that unless it is compulsory 'it would be evaded by many through one device or another.' The president has advocated universal service but not compulsory training.

"No one in this country wants to go to war," Mrs. Roosevelt said, "but America faces a dominant force. We can take it Ghandi's way of passive resistance, or we can meet it by being so strong that perhaps no one will dare attack us."

She said that we have to face realities. "We are not facing any situation of our own choice. Belgium did not want to go to war."

billy reviews," Hale said, adding that "the public won't be disappointed in the program we offer."

Early Passage of Hatch Anti-Politics Act Assured

HOUSE VOTES APPROVAL OF DEBATED BILL

Measure Given Support of Both Roosevelt and Willkie.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON — Overwhelming house passage of the Hatch anti-politics bill assured today its early final enactment, for the senate had only to agree to minor amendments before sending the legislation to President Roosevelt.

Both the chief executive and Wendell Willkie, Republican presidential nominee, have endorsed the measure. It bars political activity by state, county and municipal workers paid in part with federal funds, limits campaign contributions to $5,000 a person, and places a $3,000,000 top on the expenditures of political committees.

With the potent backing of the party heads, the bill went through the house in less than two days, although in the spring it had been a major controversy.

The final house vote last night was 243 to 122, with 89 Democrats, 152 Republicans and 2 Progressives favoring enactment. Opposed were 12 Democrats, Rep. Ball, (R. Conn.) and Rep. Marcantonio (Al. N. Y.).

Ohio representatives voted as follows on the bill:

Democrats for: Cresser, Harter, Hunter, Kirwan, Polk and Secrist. Republicans for: Bender, Bolton, Brown, Clevenger, Elston, Hess, Jenkins, Jones, Lewis, McGregor, Marshall, Routzahn, McCormack, Smith and Vorys.

Democrats against: Claypool.

The legislation supplements the Hatch law, enacted last year, forbidding political activity by most federal employees. This year's bill covers many state highway department workers, agricultural agents, and the like. All workers affected by the two measures may continue to vote but can not participate in political campaigns or management.

Firms under contract or seeking a contract, to be financed in any part with federal funds, are denied the right to make any political contributions.

Another provision bars contributions in the form of purchases of such articles as the Democrats' 1936 "campaign book," which in some cases brought $100 a copy, or advertising therein.

Father Forgives Wife Who Killed Their Children

NEW YORK — (AP) — Through lips numbed with grief, Salvatore Nicocia, 41, an unemployed baker, today extended forgiveness to his wife who had killed their six small children by asphyxiating them with gas fumes.

Mrs. Nicocia had survived the flames which snuffed out the lives of the six children ranging in age from four to 12 in their impoverished home in the Bronx.

"Forgive her?" Nicocia asked. "How could I ever feel anything but forgiveness? She's all I have to live for now. It was not her fault. She just couldn't bear to think that her children would have to suffer like we did."

"I'm going to get a job and then start all over again."

Mrs. Nicocia left a note stating: "This is the destiny to which I had to pass."

FINISH HOSPITAL ADDITION SOON

Three-Story Structure to Be Ready for Occupancy in Next 60 Days.

The new three-story addition to Mansfield General hospital, now under construction, is expected to be ready for occupancy within the next 60 days, Dr. A. O. Fonkalsrud, superintendent, announced yesterday.

Exterior work on the addition has been completed and carpenters this week began to lay the floors, according to Dr. Fonkalsrud. Work of plastering walls and ceilings is expected to get under way next week, he added.

The new addition is located at the south side of the present building and will cost between $75,000 and $80,000. When completed, it will provide space for 32 additional beds.

All rooms in the new addition are to be semi-private. Dr. Fonkalsrud said. There will be eight rooms of two beds each and four rooms of four beds each.

A complete new kitchen and food department will occupy the first floor. Included in the building program is an enlarged boiler house and new boiler to cost about $12,500, the superintendent said.

Excavation work for the addition was started before Christmas last year but it was impossible to begin actual construction work until April of this year because of cold weather, Dr. Fonkalsrud said.

STUDY USE OF TARGET SHIPS

House Would Make It Legal To Use Old Boats.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The house today considered legislation authorizing the navy to bomb its own ships.

A senate-approved bill would permit the navy to dispose of its antiquated warships by using them as bomb targets.

It was recalled that more than a decade ago, the late army corps chief, William "Billy" Mitchell, proved the potency of aerial attack by sinking an old naval vessel in a bomb test.

NO SABOTAGE FOUND ON DUTCH SHIP AS ENGINES TURN OVER

SANDUSKY — (AP) — The whir of the ship's engines brought a report of "no sabotage" aboard the Dutch freighter Prins Willem II and presaged today an early release of its jailed crew.

A. J. Haman, chief engineer of the Dutch liner Nieuw Amsterdam, came here yesterday as a representative of the Netherlands shipping committee in New York to inspect the freighter, tied up here since June 7 by the crew's refusal to take it to Montreal.

Finding the vessel's engines in good condition, Haman announced the ship had not been sabotaged and aided in the release of the Prins Willem's chief engineer, Franz Heydens, from jail.

Sheriff William S. Souter said Heydens was jailed after admitting he removed and hid engine parts. The chief engineer returned to the freighter following his release.

The 20 members of the crew arrested last Friday after refusing to take the coal-laden vessel to Montreal may be released soon, Haman said. Crewmen had expressed fear of internment on British soil.

Capt. C. A. Van Der Eyck, whose report of mutiny and sabotage plans resulted in imprisonment of the crew, visited the men in jail last night. He asserted he had received word from the ship's owner the Oranje line, that crewmen's families in Holland had been paid their share of the men's wages under an agreement at the time the crew signed on the boat.

Crew members claim approximately $1,900 is due them in back wages. Twenty attachments obtained by Attorney Alvin F. Weichel in the crew's behalf are pending against the freighter.

STATE SCHOOL CHIEF ENTERS HOLBROOK ROW

President Faces Dismissal Charges in Dispute on Management.

(By Associated Press)

MANCHESTER — Alfred Holbrook, the little college on the Ohio river whose football teams have campaigned over a wide area and bested many of their bigger rivals, was torn by a bitter management dispute today and shorn of its accredited standing.

Closely following dismissal charges filed by members of the board of trustees against President H. E. Cunningham, who refused to relinquish the post, E. N. Dietrich, state director of education, reduced the school's rank.

A survey of Holbrook's "plant, faculty and facilities" revealed that the school was below standard, Dietrich said. Only 40 students were enrolled for the summer course and the type of instruction "failed to measure up to what we consider necessary for a teacher training school," he added.

Sixty-five full-time students were enrolled last winter. The dismissal charges were the result of a dispute over moving the college to Portsmouth, trustees claimed.

Five members of the board, with seven present, voted the presidency vacant. Secretary R. C. Wilkerson said, and charged Cunningham with: (1) Blocking an endowment from J. W. Hauserman of the Philippines, a trustee; (2) advising students not to enter Holbrook this summer or next fall and (3) spending earmarked funds for unintended purposes.

Roy Blackburn of Manchester, president of the board who did not vote in the ouster proceedings, asserted:

"Dr. Cunningham doesn't expect to resign. We are going to test the legal standing of these members who voted for his dismissal. Don't think he tried to stop the endowment ($2,500), but merely told Mr. Hauserman the truth about the possibilities of moving the college."

"I think the dismissal was illegal because I didn't call the meeting and no one acted as chairman."

The Voice of BROADWAY

—By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

You Can't Print That!

(This is a compendium of tales that can't be told with names, because they're too true to print. If there is any resemblance in the characters to actual persons, living or dead—you've probably guessed right.)

Jack X. is one of the greatest entertainers the musical comedy stage has ever known. He's crowding 60 now, but in spite of his years and a few gray hairs, he still provides the gossip writers with plenty of romantic rumors.

Last winter the big star was portrayed by the press as "a man broken in spirit." His bride, just a little more than half his age, had divorced him, and the sympathetic writers described him as inconsolable.

Actually, he was doing a little bit of all right in Florida. He had met a pretty, streamlined brunette whose dimples had enchanted many a swain before, although she hadn't reached voting age. Let's call her Alice.

Jack aroused Alice's sympathy by convincing her that life—and especially love—had treated him shabbily. Then he impressed her with his fame and importance. Lastly he persuaded her to leave the night club show she was rehearsing in, and to ignore a Hollywood picture offer she had received. He wanted fame to come to her through him, he insisted, and he painted a glowing picture of the part he would give her in his Broadway musical show.

Alice believed him, of course. She would have bet anybody any amount that he was the most wonderful guy in the world. Naturally, she was a little disturbed when his ex-wife arrived in town and he began being seen with her here and there, but he quieted her fears by explaining that although his love for his ex-wife was definitely cold, he wanted to be a nice fellow about the whole thing.

Then the columns began to hint that his new flame was a high-pressure glamour girl in the cast of his new rehearsing show.

Well, you can't blame Jack for having a change of mind or even a change of heart. But it's a little hard to understand why the man who promised so much never went to see Alice who she was near death with pneumonia in a hospital about 40 cents on a taxi meter away from his hotel. Or why he didn't send her flowers, or a telegram of good cheer.

Oh, he did send her some word, all right—he sent one of his stooges around to explain that he couldn't keep her part open for her in the show which was to have been her stepping stone to fame!

But you can't print that. He's the one who makes millions singing torch songs, and it would spoil the illusion if it got around that someone was heartbroken over him.

Mr. Y. is a wealthy and important liquor executive, noted around the Broadway spots for his suavity, his bankroll, and the number of pretty girls he brings into the night clubs. His suite at one of the town's most elegant hotels is the gathering place for beautiful models and chorines, and his entertaining bills run something over $60,000 a year. Most of the local blades envy him for a carefree and lucky fellow.

They couldn't possibly know that Mr. Y. would give up all the money and champagne and girls and be happy as just a laborer, if he could go back 10 years and marry the girl he gave up because he wanted a career. And he can never marry her, because she's dead.

But you can't print that. Some of those celebrities would be rightfully upset to know that their autographs had been sold without their permission—and without their getting a cut!

Hollywood Speaks---

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Producer Ben Hecht sat at his office desk today and wondered what movie producers find to do with their time. He went even further than wondering.

"The time'll come," he said, propping his slippers feet on the desk and puffing at his cigar, "when there'll be no more producers in the picture business. When a little more bad luck comes to the business, they'll be done away with. It won't be easy, since the producers have to live themselves, but it'll come."

Hecht, large and portly and very good-humored about the whole thing, seemed to be doing his best to look like a caricature of a producer, even in his blue sports shirt, his loudly striped socks, and the old felt hat he kept on his head.

But his office didn't look busy. The walls weren't covered with production charts, and no secretaries and office boys popped in with breathless messages. There wasn't even a book on the bookshelves. There was one phone, and it didn't ring more than once.

Producer Hecht, it should be remembered, has long had it in least-somewhere in sight. If books for producers in general, he is the producing and directing his own story, "Refute I Did," and Doug Fairbanks, Jr., his star, is also, mince demands more attention.

"Having worked as a writer under at least 20 producers, I think 90 per cent of them might as well be dropped in the Pacific Ocean. Then we'd get pictures a lot better. There was one phone, and it didn't ring more than once."
